

Mondo

PAVING AND RETAINING WALLS

HOME

Mondo Meccano Civil Contractors undertake civil engineering contract works that include paving, earthworks, segmental block retaining walls, and gabions. Contracting works carried out for building companies include projects from as small as 350m² to the more illustrious 20,000m².

Experience in the construction industry and the domestic market ensures that the final product stands the test of time, adding value to the building project or private property. A large range of block designs, colours and specifications are available from all suppliers that make concrete products to the highest standards and SABS specifications.

